CONTINUED ON BACK:

I have read and will abide by the Village of Trumansburg Chicken Law of August 2013.

I am aware of the required training and requirements.

I am aware that the 1st year of the Chicken Law allows only 15 Permits and if approved by the Village Trustees in 2014 there will be 25 Chicken Permits allowed.

People with current chicken permits will have 1st opportunity to renew permits.

Other people may apply to obtain permits up to the limit of Permits allowed. If there are more applicants than number of permits allowed, this is the procedure:

1) Current Chicken Permit holders are allowed 1st chance to renew their permits.

2) People who want a permit must provide a completed application with fee and drawings.

3) After the renewals are completed, then we will go by date of properly completed Application submission up to the allowed number of permits.

4) Final decisions by Zoning and Code Enforcement Officer is final.

So it is important to make sure your application is properly completed and submitted as soon as possible.

Any questions, please refer them to Bill Baker or Ed Hetherington.
